- New resource book for SFD training from CSE
- GIZ and co. are looking into a climate feature for the SFD

Financial mechanism to facilitate the receipt and redistribution of grants and donations to SuSanA through the Skat Foundation as trustee

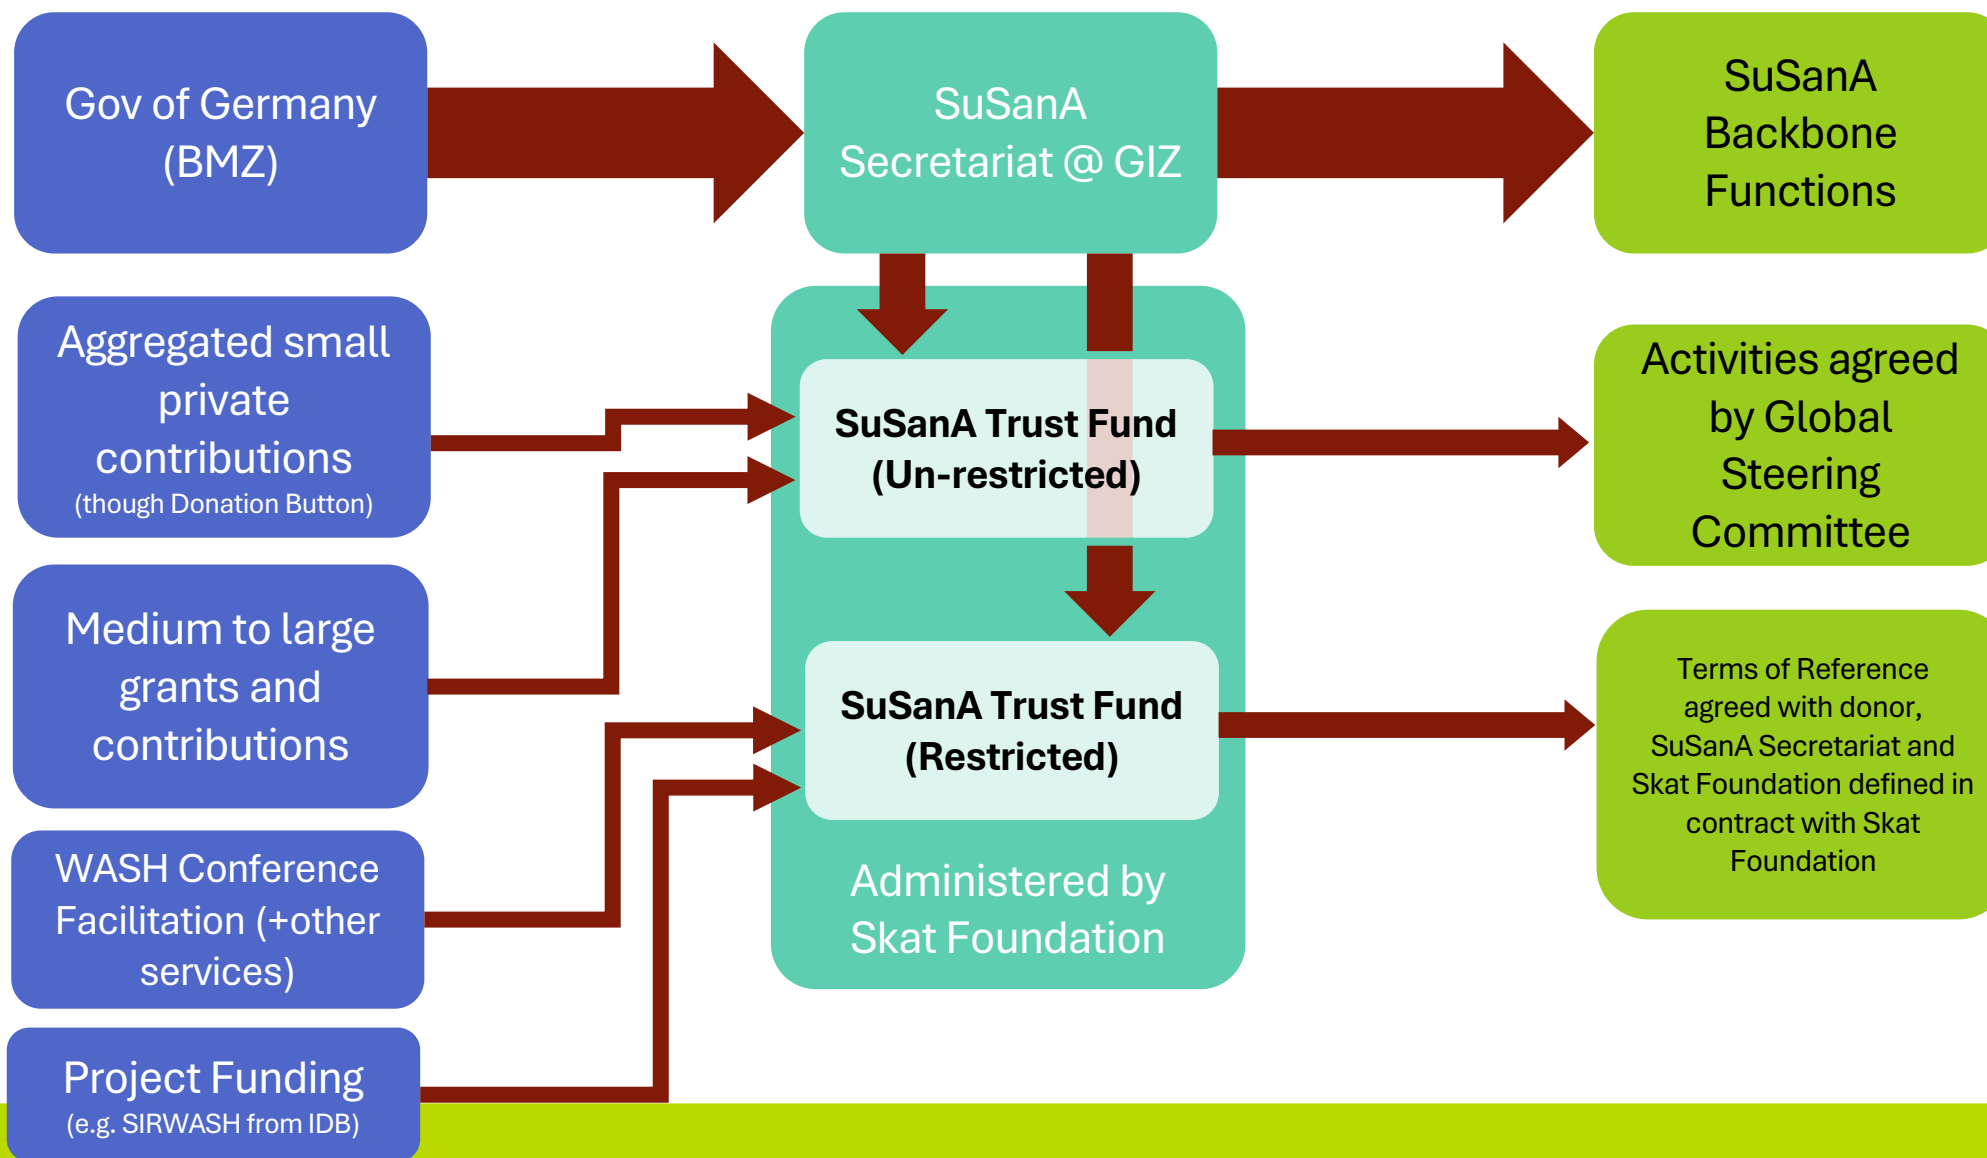

Potential

- could help attract fundings in general (more diverse funding streams)
- aggregation of smaller contributions (donations)
- Can support the decentralisation of the secretariat
- Increase flexibility and resilience of the network

Status

- GSC agreed to the principle of developing the SuSanA Fund
- Advisory Board support the idea emphasising the need for a clear governance model and effective fundraising mechanisms

FOREWORD

Svenja Schulze, German Federal Minister for Economic Cooperation and Development and members of the German civil society show their joint support to break the taboo around menstruation by wearing the Menstruation Bracelet.

DEAR READERS

Many young people grow up in ignorance about their bodies and their rights, which deprives them of the opportunity to make their own choices about their future. During my visits to other countries, I have seen the dramatic consequences of this. I met girls who told me what it is like not to know what is happening with your own body, what it is like to regard this as a kind of black box of which you are afraid, that your friends or your mother, because while they have their period, because pens or pads. Or simply because they cannot afford them. Or, sometimes, because they have gaps in their education.
